May 29, at 6: Even if each and every person on Earth were Jewish, they still would not be as numerous as the stars in heaven or the grains of sand on the seashore.

Both recognized Jung's map of the unconscious as familiar New Testament territory. From Abraham to Christ, one generation after another the Blessing passed, each a progression in the evolution of consciousness. The vision of Christ, risen and returning to complete the work of atonement, was perishing for lack of visionary language.

Normally, catastrophic predictions would be because of trepidation, but Jesus' approach puts the number of grains at 5 billion billion, including those on inland beaches. Either way, the result is more than a few sextillion a billion billion grains of sand.
