The simple design of this small storage bench makes the whole unit look delightful and functional. Mix it in the wheelbarrow using the rake until you achieve the correct consistency. Fill the molds all the way to the top and use a piece of wood to scrape away the excess. Mix the concrete according to the directions on the bag. This element of outdoor furniture stands on two durable concrete slabs. It will serve as a chat in the park, it has unwavering strong proportions and gray color. These seats are 15cm thick so it should withstand a lot of use. You can also stamp patterns. For example, you can buy garden benches which have a concrete frame and then are covered with a wooden seat or other material. So make sure to do this project very near the site where it would be placed!
