The monies contributed over time will come back adding some small return, and allowing for inflation, maybe. You haven't got a clue which of your rights as a citizen are being signed away.

Healsaidhewasdying.Overthelifeofapolicy,thiscanmakeadifference. If there are altruistic folk that still want to donate to our democracy then they can donate to an AEC fund that will distribute funds evenly amongst all candidates. Good luck to you in trying to litigate it through an Australian Court. But, thanks to a ridiculous and probably decision of the US Supreme Court nearly years ago, governments across the world no longer have the power to act in the best interests of their own citizens where such actions conflict with the wishes, interests or plans of abstract entities known as "transnational corporations".

Evenwithoutthetradeagreementstherearehugeissueswithforeigntrade. Hadlee revealed his approach had little to do with chivalry. We shouldn't let this societal need funnel money from the public to bank investors, as has happened in the recent past.
